

McAuliffe-Shepard Discovery Center

We bring the universe to you

Founded to honor the legacies of two New Hampshire astronauts, Alan Shepard and Christa McAuliffe, the McAuliffe-Shepard Discovery Center strives to inspire all generations to engage in STEM and reach for the stars. Through on-site, off-site, and online activities, we work with museum visitors, schools throughout New England, and a larger online audience to help everyone access space, aviation, and earth science. Come learn about the work we do, how COVID has changed and broadened our approach, and get a look at the night's stars!
