

AIAA Cape Canaveral Section 2013 Outstanding Member Award

Call for Nominations

The American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA) Cape Canaveral Section is soliciting nominations for the 2013 Outstanding Member Award. The award will be presented to the section member who demonstrates outstanding achievement in the aerospace field. This will be determined by accomplishment(s) in work-related duties, educator contributions, and/or significant project involvement that relates to the aerospace field as defined by AIAA's technical committee areas.

- AEROSPACE DESIGN & STRUCTURES
- AEROSPACE SCIENCES
- AIRCRAFT AND ATMOSPHERIC SYSTEMS
- ENGINEERING & TECHNOLOGY MANAGEMENT
- INFORMATION SYSTEMS
- PROPULSION & ENERGY
- SPACE & MISSILES
- NEW & EMERGING TECHNOLOGIES
- AEROSPACE EDUCATION

Nominations submitted must include a nomination form completed by the nominee and a written reference of not more than 500 words written by the colleague's supervisor, customer, or professor/mentor. The reference should describe two main topics; 1) the member's achievement accomplished in calendar year 2013 and how it relates to one or more of the above listed technical areas and 2) the nominee's participation in Cape Canaveral Section activities and other service or outreach activities related to the AIAA mission.

This award will be presented at the National Engineers Week Banquet, co-hosted by CCTS on February 20, 2014
