Re: Call for Nominations: Cape Canaveral Section 2009 Outstanding Member Award

Dear Cape Canaveral Section Member,

The American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA) Cape Canaveral Section is soliciting nominations for the 2009 Outstanding Member Award. The award will be presented to the section member who demonstrates both outstanding achievement in the aerospace industry and who has sustained outstanding performance in fully supporting and participating in the Cape Canaveral Section.

Outstanding achievement in the aerospace industry will be demonstrated by work related duties, educator contributions, and/or significant project involvement with regards to AIAA's technical committee areas. Nominations submitted will include a nomination form and a written summary of not more than 300 words by the colleague's supervisor, customer, or professor/mentor. The summary serves as the basis for the nomination and should describe the member's achievement accomplished in calendar year 2009 and how it relates to the following technical areas.

AEROSPACE DESIGN & STRUCTURES
AEROSPACE SCIENCES
AIRCRAFT AND ATMOSPHERIC SYSTEMS
ENGINEERING & TECHNOLOGY MANAGEMENT
INFORMATION SYSTEMS
PROPULSION & ENERGY
SPACE & MISSILES
NEW & EMERGING TECHNOLOGIES

Support and participation of the Cape Canaveral Section will be awarded based on member involvement in section activities. Examples include attending dinner meetings and field trips along with individual efforts such as public policy initiatives. The nomination form includes a list of all 2009 calendar year events.

This award will be presented at the National Engineers Week Banquet, co-hosted by AIAA, CCTS, IEEE, and ASME on February 18, 2010

Please submit your nomination form and supporting summary via e-mail, or mail to Matthew J, Zuk NLT
