Mr. Rick Cloutier

Rick is an Accredited Airport Executive (AAE). He received a Bachelor's degree in Public Administration from the University of Central Florida in 1998 and a Masters of Business Administration in 2008 also from UCF. These combined fields of studies fit well into the quasi-governmental environment of the Melbourne International Airport where he has been employed since July 1985. Rick has held many positions at MLB starting as a Janitor in 1985 and progressing to his current position the Deputy Director of Aviation. Rick has managed many multi-million dollar projects for the Airport Authority including the current on-going Cargo Apron Expansion and a new 87,000 sq. ft. Cargo Hangar. Rick earned State of Florida certification as a General Contractor, Unlimited Electrical Contractor and Roofing Contractor, in 2004 Rick founded and became President of Moonstone Construction, Inc. His community involvement includes being Past President of the Brevard Electrical Apprenticeship Training Program, a member of the Space Coast Transportation Planning Technical Advisory Committee, Former Chairman of the Brevard Regional Policy Council the board that oversees the county early intervention program for infants and toddlers, and a member of FEDS (Families Exploring Down Syndrome)
