Lunch 'n' Learn

Design, fabrication, and test of the X-51A Scramjet
Engine Demonstrator

Guest Speaker:

Mr. Charles Brink

X-51A Program Manager

Friday, 17 June 2011

This high-flying Lunch 'n' Learn will discuss the design, fabrication, and test of the X-51A Scramjet Engine Demonstrator with heavy emphasis on current flight test related topics.

Mr. Charles Brink is currently the Air Force Research Laboratory's X-51A Scramjet Engine Demonstrator program manager. Mr. Brink has served in this capacity since program inception in 2003 and has led the $246M effort through both Preliminary and Critical Design Reviews and is currently coordinating the efforts of the Boeing/Pratt Whitney Rocketdyne X-51 Consortium with the Air Force Flight Test Center, Naval Air Warfare Center, and NASA as the X-51A prepares for its second flight.
